The screenshot shows the HP Applications Center dashboard. At the top, there's a navigation bar with 'Dashboard', 'Orders', 'Customers', 'Templates', 'Content', and 'Applications'. Below this is a 'Dashboard' section with a welcome message and a 'You love HP premium Barebone E61' badge. The main content area is divided into two columns. The left column features an 'Orders Summary' table with 10 rows of order data, including order numbers, types, dates, and prices. The right column displays 'WallArt suite apps' in a grid format, categorized into 'Wallcoverings', 'Canvas', 'Posters', 'Window Blinds', and 'Wall Decals'. A red dashed circle highlights the 'Rollup' app icon in the 'Single site apps' section.

Select a Rollup type (depending on its mechanism), and a size (whether it is a preset or a custom size)

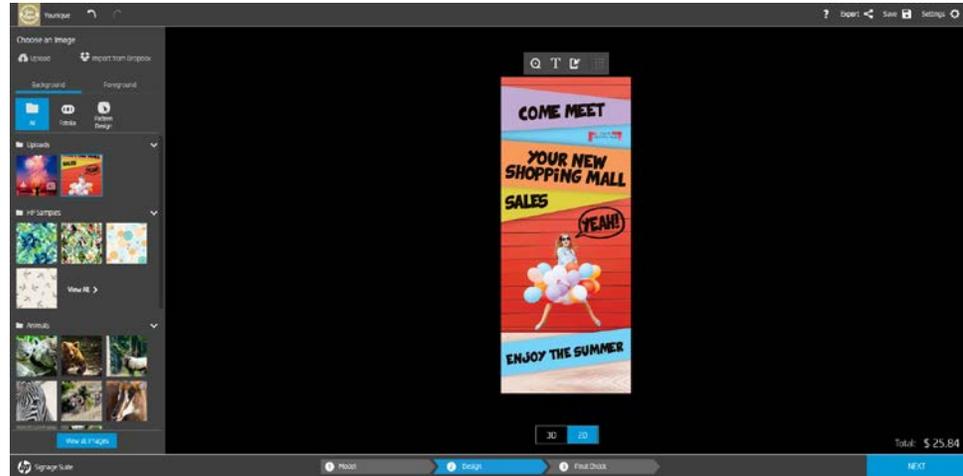

The screenshot shows the 'Choose Rollup type' screen. It features three main options: 'L-Banner' (Vertical and durable design), 'Roller' (Quick setup and removable, easy storage), and 'X-Banner' (Thermal, affordable and lightweight solution). At the bottom, there's a progress bar with 'Next' and 'Finish' buttons.

On the left you have the content, and in the central area the 3D preview with the 2D-3D switcher below. In the 3D view, you can preview your project rotating the view dragging around the area, and modify your design in the 2D view.

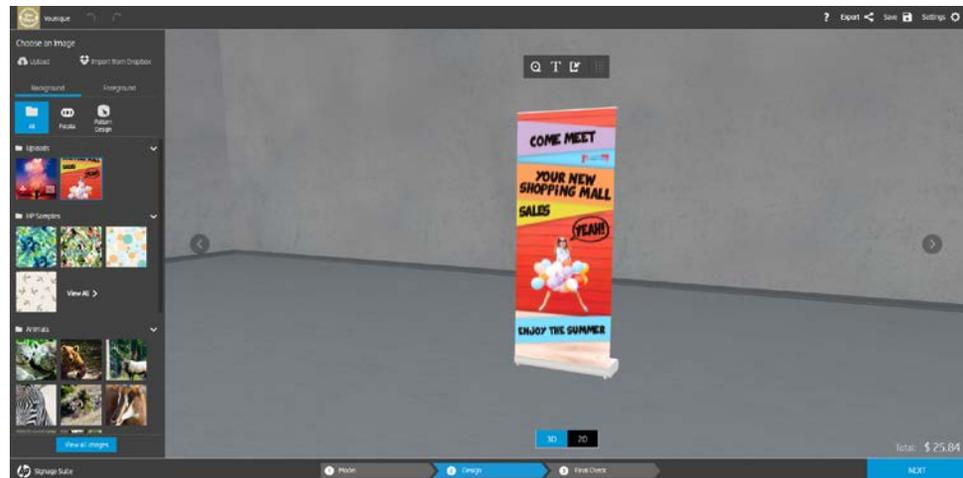

Also you have toolbars on top, which will allow you to change media, add text, change sizes of the print or add augmented reality watermarks.

The screenshot shows the design interface. On the left, there's a 'Choose an image' panel with a grid of image thumbnails. The central area displays a 3D preview of a rollup banner. At the top, there's a toolbar with icons for search, text, and other editing tools. At the bottom, there's a '2D' and '3D' switcher. The bottom right corner shows a total price of '$25.94' and a 'Next' button.
